COURSE THEME

American and British Fantasy and Science Fiction: Frontiers of Time and Space

During this course we will examine texts that explore the frontiers of the imagination in both fantasy and science fiction. Arguably, the British tend to be more successful fantasists due to their comparatively long mythic history, while American writers have excelled in the genre of science fiction, due in part perhaps from an inherited historical ideal to explore the frontier. And yet, as we will discover, there are exceptions to this understanding in both cases. Additional themes of subgenre, gender, LGBTQ+, dis/ability, and diverse voices will also be explored.

Course Description and Requisites

Students will examine works of literary fantasy and science fiction to understand them as expressions of human intellect and Imagination; to comprehend their historical and cultural contexts; and to recognize their diverse cultural traditions. Both contemporary and historical works will be studied.

Satisfies 3B. Humanities (Formerly Area C2).

Grading: Letter Graded

Note(s): No credit in the English major.

ATTENDANCE

Although this course is online and asynchronous, students must maintain a regular and active presence in the course. This includes responding to emails and messages, as well as completing module assignments in a timely manner. There are three virtual check-ins during the course of the semester—that is, one response per module to a required “Citizen” assignment. Also, there is one required Zoom meeting with the instructor for midterm progress assessment.

IMPORTANT: If there is no response to Canvas message or email and no activity in the Canvas course by the end of the second week of the course, a student may be dropped.

EMAIL & ONLINE COMMUNICATION ETIQUETTE

For this online course, we will do all of our writing in digital spaces—some formal, some informal. An important part of learning to be a successful student and writer is knowing what is appropriate in a given situation. An email to me, to any other faculty or staff member on campus, or to anyone in any position of authority must be respectful and professional in tone, should come from your official SJSU email account or Canvas message board, and should follow this sample format:

Subject: Request to schedule an appointment

*A subject line is always required and should clearly and briefly represent your purpose for emailing. Emails with no subject line may be mistaken as “junk mail” and may not be read.

Dear Dr. Nathanael,

*Always use a formal address, such as Professor, Dr., Ms., Mr. Never use the person’s first name unless you have been given explicit permission to do so. Never use informal address like “Hey, Prof!”

Body:

I am a student in your ENGL 22 class, and I would like to schedule an appointment with you to discuss my essay draft. I am having trouble with my thesis statement and hope to get your help in clarifying it. Are you available to meet this Wednesday afternoon?

*State your question, concern, or request briefly and clearly, using standardized English. Maintain a polite, respectful tone and avoid using exclamation points, emoticons, texting abbreviations, or coarse language. Avoid asking questions that are answered on the syllabus or assignment sheet, such as “When is our paper due?” or “What is our homework for tomorrow?” Emails that are not professional in style or tone, or that ask questions that are clearly answered on the syllabus or assignment sheets, may be ignored.

Thank you,

*Use a formal closing, such as “Sincerely,” “Respectfully,” “Thank you,” or “Best regards.”

ID: xxxxxxxx

*Always sign your full name at the end of your email. Include your student ID and course number as a courtesy. Occasionally, there are students with the same name and this will avoid confusion.

Course Requirements and Assignments

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

NOTE:

"Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus."

In other words, expect to dedicate about 10-15 hours per week to this 15-week course. See breakdown of grading and assignment descriptions below.

Course assignments (described in detail below) will consist of orientation activities, module quizzes, one essay, one team project, one timeline project, module activities (Side Quests), participation credit (Citizen), A.i. training, and one final exam.

All assignments must be submitted in a format that can be seen and graded by the instructor. Due to high volume of error, Google Docs is not acceptable. See individual assignments for specific format requirements.

DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENTS

Short Research Essay (10 points total; 4 pages, or approx. 1000 words minimum required)

Students will demonstrate their ability to critically evaluate literature and defend a position in a critical essay. Some additional research will be required and essays must quote from credible academic sources with citations. Successful essays will have a clear thesis, present ideas in an organized, logical, and coherent form, and use Standard English grammar, punctuation, spelling, and usage. Formal assignment prompts and grading rubrics will be distributed at the time the essays are assigned. (GELO 2, 3)

Team Project (10 points total; approx. 1000 words, but may vary)

Design a Wizard School

Working in teams of three or four, students will brainstorm and design their own wizard school. Wizard school designs may be inspired by but are expected to be creatively different from Harry Potter's Hogwarts and Ged's Roke. Student teams will be expected to set up a regular meeting schedule to discuss a project plan, assigned roles, and expected outcomes. Student teams may utilize email, phone calls, and Zoom to conduct their meetings depending on individual schedules. Students will be graded individually on their roles as a team member and their contribution to the overall project. Grading criteria will include: 1) analysis of overall project; 2) analysis of contribution to project; 3) analysis of another group project. Formal assignment prompts and grading rubrics will be distributed at the time the project is assigned. (GELO 1)

Timeline Project (10 points total; audio/visual, word count may vary)

History of Subgenres in Fantasy & Science Fiction

Create an historical timeline of a fantasy/science fiction subgenre.

Students will select one subgenre from Module 3 to explore in more detail and create a timeline of its historical development. Students will present their findings in an audio/visual PowerPoint presentation (or equivalent). Students will explore and articulate their own subjective aesthetic and intellectual responses to their selected subgenre. Students will demonstrate the significance of their selected subgenre by making connections to why fantasy matters, by analyzing and assessing ideas of value, meaning, and knowledge, as produced within the humanistic disciplines.

(GELO 4)

Module Quizzes (15 points; 5 points per module)

Module quizzes will be taken online in Canvas and will be available during a seven day window (see schedule for details). Once the window is closed, no one may take the exam except with a university approved excuse (illness, etc.) Module quizzes will contain a selection of matching, multiple choice, short answer questions based on weekly readings and lectures. Practice quizzes will be available within the lectures. (GELO 1)

Side Quests (15 points; 5 activities required per module)

Side Quests consist of a selection of small activities in which the student may demonstrate additional knowledge or skills based on the current module's assignments. The completion of one Side Quest = 1 point. Over the 15 week semester, students are required to achieve 15 Side Quests for 15 points.

Activities include: illustrating a text, watching and responding to a TED Talk, responding to a scholarly article, and more. See Side Quests in Canvas for more details. (GELO 1-4)

Citizen (Participation credit; 20 points)

In addition to the Side Quests listed above, students must complete a selection of required assignments marked "Citizen." These assignments are necessary for the successful completion of the course. Such assignments include workshops, opening and closing reflections, and a student conference appointment with the instructor held on Zoom. (GELO 1-4)

Final Examination (20 points)

The Final Exam will be taken online in Canvas and will be available during a seven day window during Finals Week. Once the window is closed, no one may take the exam except with a university approved excuse (illness, etc.) The Final will be cumulative and consist of a random selection of questions from the Module 1-3 quizzes. The Final will contain a selection of matching, multiple choice, short answer questions. Practice quizzes are available within the lectures. (GELO 1, 4)

EXTRA CREDIT POLICY: EASTER EGGS

Extra credit may be earned by responding to specially marked assignments called "Easter Eggs." These discussion board posts are available on a weekly basis but for a limited time. Easter Egg credit must be collected as a group to earn tiered rewards. See Canvas page for list of rewards.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Extra credit may NOT be used to replace the credit of main assignments. Failure to turn in required assignments or receiving a 0 on a main module assignment may nullify extra credit.

LATE WORK POLICY: By Arrangement

At any time, and for reasonable circumstances, a student may request an extension on a main module assignment like a project or quiz. Message the instructor to make arrangements.

TIME SENSITIVE: Late work will receive a 10% or (-1) point reduction for each week beyond the original due date of the assignment.

Extensions are not granted for one-point assignments like Citizen or Side Quests.

A.i. TOOLS USE POLICY

A.i. Tools, such as ChatGPT, are now a part of our reality, but their usefulness in education is still under debate. Throughout this course, we will engage with and analyze the efficacy of such tools.

IF YOU CHOOSE TO USE A.i. TOOLS AS A WRITING AID, an A.i. Use Statement must be included in completed assignments that explicitly states what the student used A.i. tools for. Furthermore, any use of A.i. must be formally cited in the assignments Works Cited page and an Appendix that includes the original question submitted and response received from A.i.

Appropriate AI uses:

- To think about key terms for research
- To organize or outline ideas
- For review and editing

Do NOT use AI tools to:

- Generate original work

USING AI TOOLS TO GENERATE ORIGINAL WORK IS A FORM OF CHEATING AND WILL NOT BE TOLERATED

✓ Grading Information

Student progress will be assessed by means of essays and exams, along with a team project and some shorter assignments (Side Quests). Students will receive assignment prompts and rubrics—posted to Canvas and discussed in lectures—that will outline the specific expectations of the assignments. Students will receive written feedback on assignments along with a letter grade based on a 10-point scale per assignment. As this is an online class, students are encouraged to stay in regular contact with the instructor with regard to any questions about assignments or class expectations.

Specific grading criteria for assignments are indicated in the descriptions. Late papers and make-up exams must be arranged with the instructor. By department policy, in all English Department Courses, instructors will comment on and grade the quality of student writing as well as the quality of ideas being conveyed. All student writing should be distinguished by correct grammar and punctuation, appropriate diction and syntax, and well-organized paragraphs. The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined in the SJSU Catalog ("The Grading System"). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance:

Breakdown

Determination of Grades

Grades are determined on a 100-point scale, as follows:

10 points = Short Research Essay (to be completed in Module 1)
10 points = Team Project (to be completed in Module 2)
10 points = Timeline Project (to be completed in Module 3)
15 points = Module Quizzes up to 5 points in each module
15 points = Side Quests (Module Activities; 15 total required)
20 points = Citizen (Participation)
20 points = Final
100 points total

Grading Scale:

A 90-100
B 80-89
C 70-79
D 60-69
F 0-59

This course must be passed with a D- or better as a CSU graduation requirement

Students who do not submit all three required module projects will not receive an A in the course.
